"Be fruitful and multiply" (B'rasheet (Gen.) 1:22). In truth, I did not intend to have four children when I got married. I wanted to settle down and buy a home first. The "American Dream" that everyone tries to achieve through mortgage which basically means "dead-gage." "Mort" as in "mortality." Work till your dead and you might have it paid off by then. Anyhow, to make a long story short, we ended up having two wonderful boys, and two wonderful girls, spaced apart roughly every two years, although we tried using condoms and today's "protection" methods of preventing pregnancy. I am not saying that this was a bad thing. It was and is difficult, but it was and is a wonderful thing. The "American Dream" paints the picture of one wife with perhaps one or two children. That is not at all what we see in Scripture though. And we definitely need more righteous and intelligent people who follow YaH and Scripture on this globe, in the midst of today's ADD drugged and vaccinated sheeple populations. Yes, we are favoured by the Most High to have been so "fruitful," with two boys and two girls. There are plenty of people who would love to have that mix, and indeed they plan for it and buy homes and work hard for it... never to achieve it. We can only praise YaH for this. But having said that, we need to deal with this issue of "The American Dream" using condoms and protection versus what the Turah says in line with nature.

It is needless to say that the world's child prevention industry is a huge money-making industry for the higher ups who take advantage of everyone else and of people's ignorance... our own included. That is, until we discovered Serena, a natural way of monitoring the fertility cycle, which, as I have explained in our previous calendar thoughts, is in sync with the cycles of nature and the lunar calendar to a large degree. Let me say it another way. The corporations that run the world want small families that they can control and monitor. Obedient slaves. And in our modern society, they provide all those control measures. One of the greatest control measures is this whole issue of "birth control." That is exactly what it is. Their control. They want you to think it is your control, but you only use their "birth control" because you don't know how to do it naturally. And that is exactly the position we were in when we got married, and through the births of our four children trying it "their" way. Again, the Creator worked things out for us the way He wanted it, and I can't praise Him enough for that. But there comes a time when a person wants to settle down, or perhaps they only want to have one or two children, and that makes this conversation necessary, as Scriptural believers.

If people are tired of the oil industry plastic and pills they are using on and in their body, they can check out the Serena program and website at <http://serena.ca/en/canada/index.php?lang=en>. I am only referring to this program for its simple monitoring of the fertility cycle. Please don't come against me for the fact that the Catholic Church has anything to do with it or of the creepy Masonic serpent and ying and yang symbol they use. The bottom line is that monitoring your fertility cycle is simple and natural in a relationship with our Creator. I pray that this note has been of use to some.
